Dear Susan:

I was pleased to learn that you have started a foundation dedicated to our national motto, "In God We Trust."

Our nation's founders believed that God gave us all the rights to life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness. Our national motto thus reflects and reminds us of our heritage and the basis of the rights we share as Americans.

When young Americans understand the roots of our motto, they will realize what is unique about America and, therefore, what is worth defending, preserving, and passing on to the next generation. I believe it's fitting that your foundation has also made a commitment to the men and women who have been injured in defense of our country.

IGWT is dedicated to a noble cause, and I wish you success as you work to raise awareness of our nation's founding principles.

Sincerely,
